WOISELEY.

—Mr. J. P. Dill has returned from the east. Owing to being unable to make any satisfactory arrangements with the C. P. R. authorities for a mill of less capacity than one hundred barrels per day, the present scheme will have to be dropped. It is to be hoped that the Council will see their way clear to assist the enterprise in such a way that a larger mill may be at once erected, as a mill is sadly needed here.

MOFFAT.

—What's the matter with your singing class, Joe?

—(If we only believe half we hear), five bachelors will double up next fall, providing the crops are favorable. The more the merrier! Lots of room!

—Mr. Bert Green will leave for Broadway in a few days. It is rumored that he will return in the fall accompanied by a fair partner. Never mind Bob!

—Settlers are at a loss to account for the unusual number of geese and turkeys that have located themselves here this season. The women say they are just the sort of settlers that were wanted.

—Wheat, oats and barley are well above ground. Thorough cultivation has been applied to the land, universally finishing up with the roller. The farmers are hopeful of receiving some return for their labor.

—Regret is felt at the departure of the first of the pioneers in the settlement. Billy and Jamie will long be remembered for their good qualities, always ready as their master was, willing to give a neighborly turn or to assist the deserving at a B. If W. T. had been within reach, he would have journeyed hither to give them a parting feast.

KENLIS.

—Mr. Glen, of Loom Creek is here staying with his brother.

—Seeding nearly all done. The farmers feel greatly encouraged on account of the beautiful spring weather.

—Mr. Wm. Hare of this place has gone to the Fort, to be treated by Dr. Collinge in reference to his lame foot. We hope he will soon return and fully restored.

—A young steer, the property of Mr. Ferguson, was shot and stuck with a knife about a mile above Blackwood's. Investigations are being made in reference to it, as it is generally believed that it was accidentally done on purpose.

OUR TERMS.

We have placed our yearly subscription at the low rate of ONE DOLLAR, with the object of enforcing advance payment. We can much better afford to publish a paper at that price when we know that every paper going out is paid for, than if we took the chances of collecting accounts at a higher figure. Besides we will thus speedily secure a larger circulation, which will enhance the value of our advertising columns. So dear reader send us your name and a dollar, and get your neighbor to subscribe, and you will obtain full value for your money in interesting reading.

—The Canadian Northwestern Division of the National Railway Agents met at Indian Head on Tuesday.

BATTLEFORD.

From the Herald.

—We are under obligations to Mr. Warlen for late Winnipeg papers. Getting Monday's Free Press on Saturday morning is bringing Winnipeg and Battleford pretty near each other.

—Word from the various Indian reserves show that spring work is already well advanced. The seed oats and wheat which were on hand last fall and put in promptly are already two inches high, and the ground is prepared for the barley and potatoes that are hourly expected from Edmonton.

—Arbor Day was largely observed here as a holiday, and a good many trees were planted in town, and many of our people will continue the good work then begun. The Principal and boys of the Industrial School set out a hundred and fifty trees in the grounds of that institution.

—Mr. Sully had his contract for the bridge so far advanced on Saturday night that it was quite safe for foot passengers, and some teams even crossed. A few planks are required to finish the flooring. Mr. Dewdney supplemented the grant by the Council by an amount sufficient to rebuild the bridge, so that it was not required to take up private subscriptions, as usual, to defray the cost of this public work.

The stockmen in the vicinity of McLeod are considering the advisability of holding an annual fair.

Mr. J. L. Scott, horse-dealer, of Toronto has just delivered to the Government under the contract of A. J. Palmer of Ottawa, seventy-five horses. The Commissioner says he never saw a lot of horses better brought in, and the horsemen pronounce them a very fine line of horses.

"Why don't you go West?" demanded the man, after telling a trifle that he had no money change, and could not respond to his appeal for aid. "I've been out there," "Why didn't you stay?" "Cause I lost my all," "What all did you have?" "Stranger," said the old man, as he leaned back and wiped his forehead, "I went to Illinois with $6.00 in cash. I went into the business of raising frogs for the market. There was every show that I would clear $10,000 the first year when a circus knocked me plumb out of all a circus night," "How was it?" "I had 25,000 frogs on my farm, and every damned pumper got up and jumped over on another man's back," "They did?" "I did for a fact, and as I hadn't branched a single one of them I couldn't identify my property. That's what broke me all up, and I've come East once about getting up a machine to scratch a hog's back—something that will permit a hog to scratch himself. If you can spare me 10 cents to help me—" "I'll get it without further explanation,"—West Street News.

—The Egg of Columbus. "Who was Columbus?" asked a teacher of his class, in one of the public schools of Austin. "Columbus was a bird," replied a little girl. The whole class laughed vociferously, and the teacher asked the little girl what she meant by such a silly answer. She explained, shuddering with fear, that she had read in the book of an older sister a piece of poetry about the egg of Columbus, and as only birds lay eggs, she supposed Columbus was some sort of a bird.—Texas Siftings.

—Johnny (who is spending the afternoon at the Smiths).—My mother says she'd like to look like you, Mrs. Smith. Mrs. S. (who is extremely plain, but not entirely aware of it).—Like me, my dear? I take that as a compliment, indeed, from so very pretty a lady as your mamma. You're quite sure it was I, Johnny, that she meant? Johnny (accepting another codder).—Oh, yes, ma. She said that if you could have your health and strength she believed she'd as lief look as you do.—Larger's News.

MR. DEWDNEY SHOULD STAY.

A few days ago the report was telegraphed from Ottawa that Mr. Dewdney was to be transferred from the Lieut.-Governorship of the North-West to that of British Columbia. We have awaited a confirmation of the report, but it has not been confirmed, and doubtless originated in the imagination of some newspaper correspondent. The report has, however, created some curious comments in the newspapers. The Winnipeg Free Press, for instance, intimates that he might more properly have been (in plain words) transferred to hell. The brutality and ruffianism that occasionally disgrace the editorial columns of the Free Press more than minimize the influence of that otherwise ably conducted paper. The Manitoba Sun says if Mr. Dewdney is properly qualified for the Lieut.-Governorship of British Columbia, then the North-West ought not to lose the benefit of his experience in his present office. Such in fact is the opinion of the majority of the people of the North-West. It cannot be denied that at one time Mr. Dewdney was unpopular, mainly through the people's misapprehension of his administration of affairs. But at the present time the people of the North-West understand him better, and the result is that they would regret to see him transferred to British Columbia or elsewhere. It is generally conceded that he should have a second term of office. At or before the end of that time no doubt more than one Lieut.-Governor would be required in the North-West, and the country would be under such complete government organization that it would really not be a matter of such great importance who was Lieut.-Governor. The position at present involves a very large measure of responsibility, and the duties are arduous, and there is in fact no officer in the employ of the Dominion Government at the present time who is harder worked or has more depending upon his executive action than Mr. Dewdney, and all who come in contact with him know that he is painstaking and indefatigable in the discharge of his duties. In view, therefore, of the exceptional circumstances surrounding the position at the present time it would for the best interest of the North-West that Mr. Dewdney should be retained for another term.

NORTHWEST REPRESENTATION.

The Bill giving the Northwest representation in the House of Commons and Senate of Canada provides two representatives in the Commons for Assiniboia, and one each for Saskatchewan and Alberta.

with two Senators for the whole of the territories. Assiniboia is divided into eastern and western divisions. The road allowance between sections fifteen and sixteen west of the second meridian is the dividing line between the two. This will place Qu'Appelle in the eastern division, which has the smaller area of the two but the greater population. The Regina Leader thinks an election should take place this year even if the general elections do not take place till next year. The question arises whether the Government would be justified in incurring the expense of an election for just one year's representation. We think the people would prefer to wait for the general election, as they would not wish to go through the turmoil of an election two years in succession, for the sake of only one session of Parliament. Still they are entitled to a voice in the government of the country, and as a question of right representation cannot be given too soon. We are, however, of the opinion that the election will take place at the time of the general appeal to the people, and not before.

HIGH COURTS.

Legislation is being enacted by the Dominion Parliament to provide five superior court judges, with five sheriffs, deputies and clerks for the Northwest. We would suggest the advisability of locating one of the new judicial centres at Qu'Appelle. It is headquarters for the business of a large area a country, and has already attained an importance as a town in Assiniboia second only to Regina, and has even a larger extent of settled country tributary to it than to the capital. No division of Assiniboia could be made with a better centre than Qu'Appelle, and our citizens will do well to see that no other place steals a march on us in this matter.

Our testy suburban cotemporary at the Fort says: "the public have a right to be made aware of the doings of their rulers." Just so. And that is precisely what we did when we referred to the expensive-ness of the Fort Qu'Appelle municipal books, still the Vidette said we were "patronizingly impertinent" in doing so. But then you see it all depends upon "whose ox is gored."

Rev. Sam Small, who is laboring with Rev. Sam Jones, the famous evangelist, has a level head. He recently said that if he wanted to get a right, fair, square judgment of anything, he would rather go in to a newspaper office than into a court of justice. "No man," he said, "whose life is true, pure and just need be afraid of all the newspaper presses in America. They are the best detective force in America today. They have punctured more shams, and so far as I am concerned, I say take the bridle off and let 'em go on. The only people they hurt are the shams and frauds. No respectable newspaper ever maliciously injures the reputation of any man."

The consumption of fruit must be increasing prodigiously in this country, and is undoubtedly improving the national health. In addition to the enormous consumption of berries and small fruits which has grown up in the last twenty years, there is a vast consumption of apples, oranges and grapes and imported pineapples and bananas. There were received at New York for the year ending with March, 1884, 155 cargoes by rail and 113 by steamer of bananas alone, and immense numbers are received at other ports. During the same time forty-eight cargoes of pineapples and 22,000 barrels of steamed apples were received at New York.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

Ottawa, May 11.—In the Commons this afternoon the bill respecting the repayment of the loan by the Canadian Pacific Railway was read a second time on decision, and passed through committee of the whole.

The bill establishing a Northwest Supreme Court, of five judges and five sheriffs, was passed. It was announced that some of the present stipendiary magistrates may be elevated to the bench, but the Government did not bind itself to appoint all or any of them. Mr. Blake approved the measure. The salary of these judges will be $4,000, and $1,000 travelling expenses.

After recess the bill giving representation to the Northwest Territories was read a second time. The bill gives two members to Assiniboia, and one each to Athabasca and Alberta. The several clauses were discussed by Messrs. Cameron, Mills, Casey, Watson, Royal and others. Many clauses objected to were allowed to stand over by agreement.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company have deposited in London with the financial agents of the Government one-half of the twenty millions loaned to the company in 1884. It will be remembered the company sold 20,000,000 of bonds the other day at 104 to wipe out this obligation, and before July the balance of the liability will be discharged.

WAR WITH GREECE.

Athens, May 6.—The Greek Cabinet met this afternoon and discussed the Collective Note of the Powers demanding more precise assurances that Greece will disarm. It framed a reply, which premier Delagannis this evening gave the representatives of the Powers. They consider it inadequate. The foreign ministers will leave Athens to-morrow. The British corvette Carrisfort is in readiness to take on board Sir Horace Humboldt, the English minister, and proceed to Malta. The Turkish gunboat has arrived at the Piræus to convey from Athens, Theok Pasha, the representative of the Porte. Great excitement prevails here. The soldiers of the garrison have been summoned to the barracks and it is reported that they will proceed to the front to-morrow. Several members of the Chamber of Deputies who are officers in the army have been ordered to the front. The General commanding the Greek troops in the frontier telegraphs that the Turks are massing and he has ordered a similar movement of his troops.

GREECE MUST COMPLY.

London, May 6.—Mr. Gladstone in the House of Commons this afternoon, stated that Greece's assurances in respect to keeping the peace, were not sufficient to justify Turkey abandoning her warlike preparations for defense. He added that unless Greece complied with the terms of the collective note presented to her by the Powers yesterday the Powers would forthwith take the steps requisite to compel compliance.

Athens, May 8.—Germany, Austria, England, Russia and Italy have notified Greece that a blockade of her ports has been ordered. The Government official journal to-day states that the movements of the Greek army must not be taken to indicate warlike intentions on the part of the Government. The Government has decided, adds the journal, to refrain from disturbing the peace, but believe it necessary, however, to be prepared to resist any hostilities which may be inaugurated by others. The Opposition papers denounce the injustice of the powers in their policy of coercion towards Greece, although they recognize the faults of Premier Delagannis and his Government.

Athens, May 10.—After a Cabinet council to-day Premier Delagannis tendered to the King the resignation of the Ministry, which the King refused to accept.

Before presenting his resignation, Delagannis sent a circular note to the foreign ambassadors to the effect that Greece had never contemplated hostilities to the Powers, that the Government thought the statement that Greece did not intend to disturb the peace was sufficient answer to the demands of the Powers, and that the blockade places Greece at a hopeless disadvantage. The Greek Government, he said, considered the action of the Powers in blockading the Greek ports entirely unjustifiable.

The Greek Ministers persisted in resigning despite King George's refusal to day to accept their resignations. The official Journals approve the ministerial action and say it believes it is for the best interests of Greece. The King met the Cabinet at noon to day and accepted their resignations. The King immediately sent for M. Rakakis and commissioned him to form a new ministry.

London, May 10.—The combined fleet of the Powers, which was ordered to blockade the Greek ports has been compelled to return to Suda Bay owing to heavy weather.

Lethbridge News: While any hostile determination (of fisheries dispute) would be a fearful calamity, as far as both countries are concerned, we cannot but remember that controversies of much less importance have frequently led to a bloody war. One thing is certain, Canadians can safely leave the issue in the hands of Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues, feeling certain that the dignity of Canada will be maintained against the bullying attitude of Senator Frye et al, and that Canada will not, without just provocation, be drawn into any disastrous struggles. Canada may ring with the clash of hostile arms, and the din and turmoil of battle before the snow of 1886-7 leaves the ground, or perhaps before it comes at all. More unlikely things have happened. The sons of the Dominion, in such an event, can be trusted to do their duty, as they have in the past.

The Manitoba Northwestern Railway is pushing very hard for Provincial aid, on the same basis as was granted last year to the different railways, for the extension of their line fifty miles northwest from the present terminus. But the difficulty has arisen that the line has only seventeen miles more to go before it reaches the boundary of the province, and as the Provincial Government could not or would not issue its bonds for a line constructed outside of the province, the railway company has had to suggest some expedient, and it has hit upon the happy one of changing the location; so that instead of crossing the boundary and running northwest towards Prince Albert, it takes a northerly turn inside of the boundary and runs almost due north for forty miles. This will entitle the company to the provincial aid if it is decided to grant it.—Winnipeg Sun.

CRANKS.—Crank, my son? The world is full of them. What would we do if it were not for the cranks? How slowly the tired old world would move, did not the cranks move it along. Columbus was a crank on the subject of American discovery and circumnavigation, and at last he met the fate of most cranks, was thrown into prison, and died in poverty and disgrace. Greatly venerated now? Oh, yes, Telemachus, we usually esteem a crank most profoundly after we starve him to death. Harvey was a crank on the subject of the circulation of the blood, Galileo was an astronomical crank. Fulton was a crank on the subject of steam navigation; Morse was a telegraph crank; all the old abolitionists were cranks. The Pilgrim fathers were cranks. John Bunyan was a crank, and any man who doesn't think as you do is a crank. And by and by, the crank you despise will have his name in every man's mouth, and a half completed monument to his memory crumbling down in a dozen cities, while nobody outside of your native village will know that you ever lived. Deal gently with the crank my boy. Of course some are crankier than others, but do you be very slow to sneer at a man because he knows only one thing and you can't understand him. A crank, Telemachus, is a thing that turns something, it makes the wheel go round, it insures progress. True, it turns the same wheel all the time, and it can't do anything else, but that's what keeps the ship going ahead. The thing that goes in for variety, versatility, that changes its position a hundred times a day that is no crank; that is the weather vane my son. What? You nevertheless thank heaven you are not a crank? Don't do that, my son. Maybe you can't be a crank, if you would. Heaven it not very particular when it wants a weather vane; almost any man will do for that. But when it is a crank, my boy, it looks about very carefully for the best man in the community. Before you thank heaven that you are not a crank, examine yourself carefully, and see what is the great deficiency that debars you from such an election.—Bob Burdette.

Sweden	1,000,000 gallons
Norway	1,000,000 gallons

Of the 23,000 breweries in the German empire, Bavaria alone had, when the last returns were made, 6,241, while in Prussia the number of breweries has fallen from 10,000 to 7,246, though the quantity of beer brewed has not diminished. Berlin, however, supplies nearly all the beer drunk in that city, but in 1875 only forty-nine breweries, but they were on so large a scale that they made, on an average, nearly 1,000,000 gallons each. The same is the case in Saxony, where the production of beer has declined during the last forty years, while the number of breweries has diminished. Nearly a fourth of the Austrian beer is brewed in Bohemia, and the imports of beer continue to diminish, while the quantity exported is seen or eight times greater than it was twenty years ago.

Wolf Teeth.

Wolf teeth are two small superfluous teeth which appear one on each side immediately in front of the first molar, or double tooth, on the upper jaw. Among horsemen there is a general impression that these teeth are injurious to the eyes, frequently causing blindness, unless removed. Veterinarians, however, do not coincide in this opinion, for if the belief were correct, all horses would go blind, as all have these superfluous teeth at some time of their lives, generally between the first and fifth year. So strong and widespread, however, is the belief in the blinding effect of these teeth, that whenever a horse is attacked with ophthalmia, the owner is likely to look for these teeth, and if found, they are thought to be the cause of the ailment and are roughly knocked out. In doing so the gums are generally bruised, causing considerable inflammation, which, adding to the counter-irritation, attracts the inflammation from the eye, and of course, the belief is confirmed that "wolf teeth" cause blindness.—Rural New Yorker.

MISCELLANEOUS.

—If not overloaded Esquimaux dogs will easily draw a sledge sixty miles a day.

—The women of San Francisco will found a cemetery for sailors. Two thousand sailors are known to have been buried within the city limits since its foundation, and the grave of but 150 are known.—San Francisco Call.

—Dr. Seltzer, in the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal, recommends beef tea, made very hot with red pepper, for delicate tremors. A London surgeon is stated to have treated 150 cases successfully with this remedy alone.

—Here is the last remedy for seasickness, taken from one of the French papers: "Take no food during at least four hours previous to embarkation. An hour before stepping on board drink one or two cups of very strong coffee (without sugar)."

—Little Lucy Johnson, of Tucson, Arizona, recently escaped. Its mother's notice and crawled out of the house into the woods. When found by the mother the youngster was fondly caressing a huge rattlesnake, who made no attempt to harm the child. The mother repaid his snake's kindness to her child by coaxing the baby away and then killing the reptile.—Chicago Times.

Robert Collyer in England.

Your "Emancipated Lady," in comparing the parsons of England with the preachers of the United States, falls into a strange blunder in making the Rev. Robert Collyer a native of the land of Ire, Pol and Pen. Every son of the many-splendored shire is proud to own the grand old county which gave him birth, and of all the Yorkshiremen I know, Robert Collyer is the most enthusiastic. He was born at Fawcett, a sequestered village in the beautiful valley of the Wharfe, over the hills from Otley. A few months ago he came over to England to give what he patriotically called a "first look" at the loved old home. I was with him in Ilkley; he pointed me to the iron gates at the entrance to the old churchyard hard by the winding river. These he fashioned with his own hands in his blacksmith days; and at Ilkley, boy and young man, the eloquent divine, who has for years past done such stirring church work in Chicago and New York, wrought as apprentice and afterward as journeyman "wielder of the heavy sledge." Every old man and woman in Wharfedale knows and loves him; and pleasant it was for me to see the warm and familiar cottage greeting the popular preacher of the Empire City received on every hand. Here are words of Collyer's own which will amply refute the assertion as to the place of his nativity, which your correspondent makes in her well-merited eulogy on one of America's brightest pulpit ornaments. Four years ago Robert Collyer wrote: "If ever I take to tramping, as so many thousands over here do to our grief and shame, I shall just make out where they live who come from Yorkshire, and then I have no doubt about getting quite a royal welcome all the way from Eastport, in Maine, to San Jose, in California, just for talking to them in the dear old dialect of my native spot, and telling them stories of the queer old life."—Letter to the Editor of the Paid Mail Gazette.

Bivouac in a German Camp.

Hurrying forward, I reached our bivouac just as the troop was falling in for the evening prayer, although no tattoo had been beaten there, we being too near the enemy, and the music might have betrayed our whereabouts. Quietly our little force moved up in front of the fire, the guard standing by their arms. "Halt! Right, each!" and they stood there motionless in one solid dark block, rigid as statues against the bright light of the fires and columns of smoke and sparks rising almost straight upward to the black heavens. Out of the darkness came a short word of command, "Caps off for prayer!" and in solemn silence, with uncovered heads, the ranks of soldiers rendered thanks to the Almighty for His mercies.

Lighted candles stuck in bottles or fastened to rough-hewn blocks of wood were gleaming brightly on the plain pine boards of the improvised table under the mess tent, when, the men having been dismissed, the officers sat down for an hour's chat and smoke before turning in, and although our seats varied in shape and size from a mess chest to a folding camp-stool, and the table appointments were of the simplest description, it would have been difficult to have found a merrier or more comfortable set of men than that of which our little party was composed. A handsome soldierly lot of gentlemen, these German officers, treating one with the freedom of the camp, but with the well-bred courtesy of their class, and full of eager hospitality to the stranger from far-off America. Many were the questions asked about the land beyond the sea, where so many of the countrymen and their descendants had their homes; about France, where I had been living for a long time, and about Paris, where I still resided; about the French army, their life and their habits. Then the yarns about the late war between the two countries, the suffering, the hardships, the fun and the fighting, the good wines and fair women of "young France"—yarns that made the youngsters of the mess envious of their elders, and anxious to take part some day in a like, to them, glorious struggle. There was no boasting, no exultation of the victor over the vanquished, but the natural talk of soldiers over the adventures of a campaign, the like of which has seldom been met with in history.

So the evening wore away in pleasant chat, until the major, our commandant, gave the signal for us to disperse; and we sought our beds.—H. F. Zephaniah, in Harper's Magazine for June.

A London paper makes mention of a cat which would recognize his master's footsteps after a three month's absence, and come out to meet him in the hall, with tail erect, and purring all over as if to the very verge of bursting. Another one comes up every morning between 6 and 7 o'clock to wake his master, sits on the bed, and very gently feels first one eyelid and then the other with his paw. When an eye winks, and not still, then the cat sets up a long purr, like the purr of a fire-worshiper to the rising sun.

Aluminum is sold in leaves like gold and it has been employed in Leyden jars instead of tin-foil.

Gus de Smith and Miss Birdie McGinnis were taking a moonlight stroll on the beach at Galveston one night last week, when Gus remarked: "How pale the moon looks to-night." "You'd be pale too, if you had to be up more or less one night after the other, for a week or more at a time,"—Frank Bittings.

Poetry or Nothing.

"See here," said a citizen of St. Louis to the proprietor of a bookstore, "you'd better take the book back. I asked you to give me a volume of poetry to put on the parlor table, but every darned word in this book is straight prose."

"Why, man alive, that was written by Shakespeare!"

"I don't care who wrote it, it's prose; I've looked it all through. For instance, here's a specimen:

How silver-sweet sound lovers' tongues by

Like softest music to attentive ears!

Do you call that poetry, rhyming ears with night? You can take it back. I don't want it!"—N. Y. Times.

An English paper says Terry and Irving will soon marry.

A wild-eyed man entered a Chatham street pawn-shop and wished to see some pistols. "I sell you dot pistol for two dollar," said the clerk. "Til take it. Load it up, and before another sunrise I'll put an end to my miserable existence." "Vat? You shoot yourself mit dot pistol?" "Yes," said the wild-eyed man, desperately. "Mr. Isaacstein," called the clerk to the proprietor in the back room. "der shentleman wants a two-dollar pistol to kill himself mit. Vat shall I do?" "Sharge him five dollar,"—New York Sun.

Wanted His Change.

There was an amusing scene in one of the city churches Sunday. A family party of four occupied one seat, and the youngest, a boy of tender years, was intrusted with a nickel for the contribution plate. It had been the custom for each to give a penny. In good time the collector passed around. "The little boy piously dropped his 5 cents with the other coins on the plate. The collector started away, but was called back by the boy, who demanded: "Gimme my change." "Your change—what change?" asked the puzzled plate-bearer. "W'y," responded the future shaver of notes, "I give you 5 cents, an' there's on'y four of us here. I want a penny." The youngster did not receive the rebate demanded, but when he arrived home he was given a lecture on contribution-etiquette which he will recall even when a street-car conductor yells "tickets!"—Albany Journal.

Some Queer Girls.

"They do have some queer girls down in Boston, that's a fact," observed a traveler from New England. "The last time I was in Boston, at the house of a friend, I met a young lady there who struck me as a type of her kind. We were to have chicken for dinner, and my friend's wife asked the young lady to step into the kitchen to see what a nice fat fowl she had. Would you believe it? That Boston girl inquired, 'Is it dressed?' and on being told that it was not she modestly refused to go into the kitchen. That very night that girl, who is a medical student, went to the dissecting-room and helped in the work. These Boston girls break me all up."

A Natural Mistake.

A correspondent sends to the Boston Journal the following account of a mistake made by a little girl in his vicinity: She always joins the family in reading the scriptures during the family devotions, taking her verse in turn. She easily reads the shorter words, but needs some help about the longer, but is always eager to pronounce all the words herself and sometimes guesses. Recently it came to her turn to read the verse, "No man can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or else he will hold to the one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and Mammon." She made a slight variation at the end, and finished the verse, "Ye cannot serve God and women."

Rapid City Ripples.

A largely signed petition by the ratepayers of the municipality of Saskatchewan was presented to the council last meeting, praying that a by-law be submitted authorizing a bonus of $10,000 to Geo. McCulloch & Co. for the erection of a roller flouring mill and a woolen mill here. The by-law will be voted in a month, and if carried the mill will be in operation this fall. The woolen mills will be a great advantage to this western district, as sheep are increasing very rapidly. Mr. McCulloch, who is the proprietor of the Plum Creek roller mills, is a gentleman of means and energy, and will no doubt successfully carry out the undertaking.

The cheese factory is in operation this week. The number of cows this year will be more than double that of last year. So good a reputation has this factory got, that stock raisers who live at a distance are moving into town with their cows to share its advantages.

With the exception of barley, seeding is about completed. Wheat has got a splendid start.

Owing to the action of the people in this town and vicinity in offering a bonus for the erection of a roller flouring mill and a woolen mill, the Minnedosaes are stirring themselves with the same object, but we fancy they have been caught napping and are distanced in the race for these valuable industries.

The tether of the Northwest Central Railway Co. is very short now. They have only till the first June to start work and show their ability to build fifty miles this year.

The attack by the Free Press on Dr. Harrison in connection with the Northwest Central Railway is as contemptible as it is untrue. The people of Rapid City were not in any way "prevailed upon" to "subscribe to his expenses" to Ottawa last year. He went there at their urgent request, the offer to bear his expenses was a perfectly voluntary one on their part, and they all, irrespective of political feeling, appreciate the work he did for them, especially in securing the location of the line through Rapid City, instead of much farther west—Manitoba.

J. J. Webster, of Newport Vt., has invested a type-caster for which he has refused $50,000.

Mr. Costigan, of Calgary, is said to have intentions upon the "free and independent" of 31st and the forthcoming Dominion election.

Edmonton coal was $8.70 delivered, and is of fully as good quality as the Lethbridge coal.

A thorough canvas of Moosomin and surrounding country has been made for the purpose of collecting subscriptions towards the bonus for the erection of the proposed grist mill. The canvassers met with considerable success.

Poetry.

TO CANADA.

BY JOHN C. MURDOCK, SOUTH VERMONT.
Raise up thy head, young Canada,
Thy banners to the breeze;
Look where thy mercantile vessels crowd
Float o'er the surging seas.
Look where thy steel-clad roadway winds
From sea to sea its length;
Look at the trade, and then rejoice
In thy increasing strength.
Nor art thou in the world unknown?
Ask the Egyptian same.
Canadian steps have been impressed
On that world ancient land.
Where the wild western prairie lie,
Extending far and wide,
Where the remote Saskatchewan
Pours on its silver tide,
Canadians brave have lined the banks,
A rifle in each hand,
And, for their Queen and Country's cause,
Did bravely, grimly stand.
The cheers that rose from Qu'Appelle Heights,
That rang from Lady's Lane,
From out Bathe's rugged banks,
Were echoed back again.
Yes, Canada, the heroic tale
Who on thy peace dare steal,
Are taught to fear thy maraud ranks.
Thy righteous laws to feel.
Then raise thy head, young Canada,
For future years shall see
Thine, as a happy country, proud,
Thy people brave and free.

Balloon Steering.

In regard to the subject of ballooning and the recent French experiment in steering a balloon it may be noted that the analogies of nature are adverse to the attainment of artificial flight by means of a balloon. We do not mean by way of detail, but by way of principle. The theory of a balloon is that of levitation, that is to say, of counterpoising gravity by the displacing a given bulk of atmospheric air by a lighter gas. That the latter method involves the exposure of so large a surface to atmospheric currents as to require great force to overcome the resistance of a rapid breeze by fans, screws or other mechanical means is well known. But the point to which we refer is this. In the flight of every bird or insect the weight of the animal is directly utilized for maintaining it in the air. At the will of the bird the feathered surface that exposes it to the wind can be so inclined to the movement of the latter as to make the creature rise or fall at will, by the direct action of the wind, without any visible action of the wings. From the deck of a vessel a gull may be watched, hovering for many minutes together, without one flap of its wings. The bird at such times is a living kite, its power of self-balance producing the effect of the string of the kite in maintaining a certain inclined position relative to the wind. And although some birds of the swiftest flight have an extraordinary area of wing surface in proportion to their weight, others, of equal or even superior powers of flight, have very little wing surface in proportion to their weight. True, the problem of flight has been solved by nature in many ways; but in all of them the gravity of the living creature, far from being destroyed or counterpoised, is an essential element of its mechanical action. The inference that we draw from this is that the opposite principle, that of levitation, is not likely to be followed with mechanical success, except on rare occasions.—Builder.

The duration of life in England is on the increase. Men's lives are prolonged two and women's three and one-third years beyond the limit of thirty-five years ago. The change is ascribed to various causes, prominent among which are the influence of the Public Health act, the progress of the temperance movement and the diminishing virulence of the epidemics.
—"I have a great mind to go down town to-night," said Mr. Jobbswizzle to his wife, "What say you?"
—"I have a great mind to go down town to-night," "Whose?" she asked.
—"Whose what?" "Whose great mind?" "Oh! my own, of course, madam."
—"Oh! and the rising inclination to go down town to-night is very provoking to a man of fine feeling."—Mercantile Traveller.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and Nervous Complaints, after having tested his wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, he has decided to state, in plain English, the simple and effective means by which he has cured himself, to all who desire it, this recipe, in English, French or German, with full directions for preparing and using. Hon. C. E. HAMILTON,
Attorney General.
Whereas by an Act of the Legislature of our province of Manitoba, passed on the fifty-seventh year of our reign, being chapter 10, subsection B of section 46, intitled: "An Act to amend the Agriculture, Statistics and Health Act, 1883," and to make further provisions in respect to the Department of Agriculture, Statistics and Health, it was amongst other things enacted that the Lieutenant-Governor-in-council may by proclamation, appoint as a public holiday a day known as "arbor day" for the planting of forest and other trees.

Now know ye, that by and with the advice and consent of Our Province of Manitoba, and by virtue of the said subsection B of section 16 of said chapter 10, hereon above referred to, and of all other power and authority whatsoever in us vested in that behalf. We do hereby make known and declare by this our proclamation, under the order of Lieutenant-Governor-in-council as aforesaid, and the great seal of our said Province of Manitoba, and we have read and ordered and do hereby read and order that the TWELFTH DAY OF THE MONTH OF MAY next, be and hereby is set apart as a public holiday in this Province and shall be observed as "arbor day."

And by these presents, we do urgently recommend to all inhabitants of our said Province, to set apart the hitherto mentioned day for the planting of forest and other trees, and we beg all municipal, religious and school corporations to co-operate in the success of this now work in this Province, and which promises in the near future important results.

Of all which our loving subjects and all others whom these presents may concern, are hereby required to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

In testimony whereof we have caused these our letters to be made patent, and the great seal of our said province of Manitoba, to be hereunto affixed. Witness our trusty and well-beloved, the James Chas. Ainsie, Lieutenant-Governor-in-council and ex-officio of Manitoba, member of our Privy Council for Canada, etc., etc.

At our Government House, in our city of Winnipeg, in our said province of Manitoba, this sixteenth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, and in the forty-ninth year of our reign.

By command, D. H. W.

WEBSTER'S PRACTICAL

Probably all of our readers have seen some form of Webster's Dictionary every day. HOME & GOSSIP.

QU'APPELLE.

—We have had lots of wet weather.

—McLean school is advertising the issue of debentures.

—Mr. A. McKenzie, the new baker, has already two orders for bride's cakes.

—The wheat is growing finely; it is much further advanced than last year at this time.

—Indian Head School Board is asking for tenders for the erection of a new school house.

—Tenders will be received on Wednesday next for the erection of a school house in this town.

—A meeting will be held in the school-room on Monday next for the selection of a new school site.

—Mr. R. Lymburner has sold his favorite brood mare to go to Mr. Russell Smith's stock ranch near Fort Qu'Appelle.

—The regular meeting of the Masonic Lodge was held on Tuesday evening last, in the rooms over Mr. J. P. Beauchamp's store.

—We will have for sale at THE PROGRESS store in a few days, a choice selection of fire works, including fire crackers, rockets, roman candles, etc.

—Owners of first class farm stock will please notice that the South Qu'Appelle Spring Stock Show will be held on the 24th inst., the Queen's birthday.

—Mr. W. A. B. Fishleigh of Indian Head has shown us a wheat plant taken out of his field on Saturday, the 8th inst. It measures seven inches in length.

—The posters printed at THE PROGRESS office for the celebration of the Queen's birthday command the admiration of all who see them. They are printed in three colors, and the peculiarity about them is that one line has all three colors on it, and another one two, the whole being done at one impression of the press. For a neat and attractive poster, THE PROGRESS leads the Northwest, including Manitoba and even Winnipeg.

—Count D'Esterhazy, a gentleman well known in this city, is interesting himself very much in bringing Hungarian immigrants to the country. He is now on his way to Qu'Appelle with 200 souls, and has 54 families ready to leave Hungary this year. The families already sent out by Count D'Esterhazy have been comfortably located not far from the line of the Manitoba Northwestern Railway. Count De Dory, resides on the settlement, and great praise is due him for the interest he has taken in his proteges. —Manitoban.

—Mr. B. Green will be at Qu'Appelle again with his trotting stallion Philip W. on Saturday, the 22nd inst., and will remain over Monday the 24th (the Queen's Birthday). We fear that this horse is not really appreciated at his true value here. His full brother stands this season at Grand Forks, Dakota, for $50 a mare. We have no hesitation in saying that Philip W. is from the purest strain of blood in the world to-day, as may be seen by reference to his pedigree. Those wishing good blooded colts will do well to put their mares to this horse this season, as they may not get an opportunity at the same prices another year.

—Mr. A. N. Wismer has returned from Regina, but not before his time was served, notwithstanding a petition and a number of telegrams to Ottawa. It is high time that part of the law was repealed that will allow a rascally convict to swear away an innocent respectable man's liberty. And not very much can be said in favor of a Minister of Justice that will take three weeks to find out whether an injustice has been done, when he could do so if he desired in about as many hours. Had the Northwest been in possession of its full governmental rights, Mr. Wismer would have been able to get speedy justice, but as it was he did not.

—The Regina Presbytery met at Indian Head on Tuesday last.

—The H. B. Co's mills at Riding Mountains has been destroyed by fire.

—Rev. Messrs. T. Lawson and J. Pooley returned yesterday from their trip north to the Saskatchewan.

—Work has been commenced on the erection of Mr. C. Gibson's new bakery just north of Mr. J. P. Beauchamp's store.

—Tenders for cutting hay on C. P. R. lands will be received by the station agents along the line up to the 30th inst.

—Rev. T. Lawson will hold the regular Methodist services here and at Elzeley at the usual hours next Sunday, the 16th inst.

—Mr. A. McKenzie, the new Baker, has got his business started in his new building. It is a handsome addition to Qu'Appelle street.

—During the Manitoba Methodist Conference to be held at Fort Rouge in June, Rev. T. Lawson, of this place will deliver an address on Sunday School work.

—The South Qu'Appelle Building Society is asking for tenders for the erection of a terrace on Walsh street. The terrace will supply a much felt want for houses of a better class to rent.

—Attention is directed to the advertisement of the Picket Wire Fence in another column. It is just the thing for the Northwest. There are no barbs to injure animals, and the fence is effective in restraining all kinds of stock.

—In order to encourage the sale and exchange of farm stock, we will open a column for the regular monthly fair at this place. Any person wishing to avail themselves of the privilege can do so for ten cents for each article advertised for sale, and less rates for a larger number.

—At the Queen's Hotel: W. R. Boyd, Indian Head; E. E. Eymon, Winnipeg; W. A. Clark, H. A. Ax-ford, W. McLeod, G. L. Guernsey, J. Simmons, Fort Qu'Appelle; J. A. McName, Regina; J. E. Johnson, Milbrook, Ont.; D. C. Paul, Tamworth; Geo. Leeson, Calgary; W. J. Hope, Selkirk; T. Page, Wadsworth, Inspector Indian agencies.

—At the Leland: L. C. McIntyre, T. G. Simpson, J. Cascadden, S. L. Russell, J. G. Morgan, Thos. B. Ferguson, E. Bennett, Winnipeg; W. Huckleval, Lethbridge; H. W. L. Hayward, Thos. Percival, C. David, Fort Qu'Appelle; Jas. Pot-truff, Hamilton; H. S. Forbes, Brandon; S. Bird, Rat Portage; J. A. Burns, Montreal; Hayter Reid, Jas. Brown, Regina; S. A. Anderson, Montreal; G. J. Todd, Indian Head; M. C. Shipman, London, Ont.; F. Stanley Simpson, W. J. McLean, H. B. Co., Fort Alexander; T. G. Winter, Miss Winter, Eng.

—A Lecture will be delivered in the Immigrant Building on Wednesday, the 19th inst., by Mr. Nicholas Flood Davin, of the Regina Leader. Subject, "The Franco-Prussian War." Lecture to commence at 20 o'clock (8 p.m.). Proceeds in aid of the English Church building fund. Tickets 50 cents. Mr. Davin has lectured here twice during the past winter, and his ability as a lecturer is well and favorably known. As he will be able to speak as an observer, having been on Marshal MacMahon's staff, the lecture will undoubtedly be interesting.

—The London Free Press says: "Prior to his departure for Qu'Appelle, N. W. T., Mr. H. E. Arnold, late general agent for the Massey Manufacturing Company at London, was waited upon at the office of Messrs. Bouke, Judd and Stringer, and presented with a purse containing $150 contributed by a few of his personal friends and fellow agents, as a mark of their appreciation and esteem. Mr. Arnold assumes charge of the Massey warehouse at Qu'Appelle, having been forced to leave London on account of continued ill health. His many friends wish him prosperity in his new home, and trust that he will receive all the benefit desired from the change of climate."

SOME IDEA OF THE IMPORTANCE

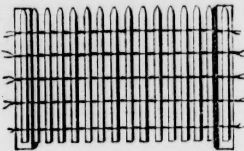

OF THE

PICKET WIRE FENCE

may be given by stating that over

50,000 MILES

were sold last year in Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas.

The above cut represents our Combination Fence—pickets dressed and pointed.

THE PICKET WIRE FENCE

is the most suitable General Purpose Fence ever offered to the settlers of Manitoba and the Northwest.

Our Combination Fence is composed of Three, Four and Five Braid Strands of the best Annealed Bessemer Steel Wire, freely interwoven with Pickets at a uniform distance. The Pickets are supported by the double strands of wire in such a way that breakage is impossible, and the pickets cannot be pulled out, making a fence that will turn all stock without injury.

It is stronger and cheaper than a board fence, as the wood soon rots around the nails and needs constant repairs.

It is portable. No other fence has ever been offered which can be as easily removed or put up as this fence. The staples can be withdrawn and the fence rolled up and removed without injury.

Fields on short notice can be fenced temporarily, and the fence removed with little or no trouble. There is no other fence that will admit of this advantage.

With this fence to a great extent your fields, orchards, gardens, &c., will become private and well guarded.

It withstands all winds, and dries out quickly when wet, and if painted will last a lifetime.

It will not cause snow to drift.

Our Combination Fence is not only the best and cheapest, but its handsome appearance adds much to the value of any land it surrounds, which is acknowledged by all who see it.

It is certainly the strongest fence ever offered, as it cannot be broken, each picket being supported and secured with three or more double strands of wire; and more than this, the force of any concussion is broken by the spring of the wires; all the wires and pickets are so interwoven as to form a spring, and when drawn tight and properly put up sagging is absolutely impossible.

This fence is shipped in rolls of from two to six rods, and can be stretched complete in the same time that it takes to stretch one strand of barbed wire.

There are no barbs on this fence. The pickets used in its manufacture are made of clear dry elm, and range from three to four and a half feet in length. A three-foot picket makes an excellent fence for sheep and pigs, and the same length of picket when raised twelve or eighteen inches from the ground, will turn cattle and horses effectually and without injury.

N.B.—We have made arrangements with the C. P. R. for a special low rate for freight on our fence.

Price List and information supplied on application at the Office of the General Agent, ROOM 12, 31 ADELAIDE ST. EAST, TORONTO, ONT., or to the General Agent for Manitoba and the Northwest.
